

Informative clauses in web forms (DOUBLE LAYER)

INFORMATION ON PROCESSING PROVIDED IN LAYERS (art. 11 LOPDGDD)

In each of the forms where personal data are obtained, basic processing information must be provided (1st layer) that includes, at least:

- The identity of the controller and of their representative, if any.
 - It will not be necessary to provide this information when their identity is in the legal notice and can also be evident from the website itself (domain name, advertised brand, etc.).
- The purposes of the processing.
 - Generic information about the purposes for which the personal data to be collected is intended.
- Link to the Privacy Policy.
 - It will contain complete processing information (2nd layer).

CONFIGURATION INSTRUCTIONS ON THE WEBSITE

Include the following informative clauses at the end of each of the following web forms.

The clause may contain one or more purposes and some of these may require the user's consent:

1. If consent is not required, the recipient of the form may process the data for the purpose described, only by informing the user.
2. If consent is required, an "I accept..." box will be displayed for the user to decide whether or not to accept the processing of data for a specific purpose. In both cases, the recipient should keep evidence of whether or not the user has given consent, for example, a copy of the form in an email or other non-manipulable media.
 - If the user agrees, the recipient may process the data for this specific purpose and for other purposes that do not require consent, if any.
 - If the user does not agree, the recipient will not be able to process the data for this specific purpose, but will be able to process the data for the other purposes, if any.
 - Sending the form should not be conditional on consent, so if there is a purpose that does not require consent, the form should still be able to be sent.
